

UNMANNED AIRSPACE

Weekly news bulletin – 12 November 2017

UAS traffic management system news

Flyte adds US section charts to its Drone Deploy app

US drone registration system likely to make a come-back

South Korea “to launch parcel delivery, night-time flights”

Uber and NASA link to create flying urban taxi services

DJI launches drone-fleet centralised flight management

NASA adds urban air mobility to its strategic research plan

UTM industry leader interview

“Low-altitude airspace solutions must....avoid favoring any system” – Travis Mason, Airbus A^3

UAS traffic management tenders

NUAIR seeks industry partners for second stage New York state UTM trial

Singapore issues call for proposals to develop a UTM system

Counter-UAS systems and policies

US Navy “requests USD37.2 million for counter UAS systems”

Sensofusion announces new generation Airfence counter-UAS system

If you wish to add email recipients to this list or unsubscribe please send message to newsletter@unmannedairspace.info

For all editorial matters please contact the editor, Philip Butterworth-Hayes on philip@unmannedairspace.info.

For advertising and sponsorship please contact Kay Rolland at Kay.rolland@gmail.com