

UNMANNED AIRSPACE

Weekly news bulletin – 12 March 2018

UAS traffic management system news

Ford proposes anti-collision lights-based drone tracking/ID system

Kongsberg provides BVLOS situational awareness for Drone America

ENAV estimates “up to EUR 75 million in UTM income by 2028”

TEOCO launches AirborneUTM, featuring machine-learning algorithms to support BVLOS operations

FAA to expand LAANC programme with new providers, new sites

Lufthansa Systems launches rule-based UTM app

Unifly and Integra link to form UTM services around airports

Kittyhawk adds UAS Facility Maps, live UTM telemetry sharing applications

Frequentis and Altitude Angel link to provide airspace authorisation system

DFS and Deutsche Telekom develop cellular phone based UTM system

UTM industry leader interview

“To use the metaphor of the internet, UTM is at the stage where personal modems have just gone on the market” – Interview with Skyward’s Jonathan Evans

Counter-UAS systems and policies

General Atomics demonstrates acoustic drone-detector to US Army

Civil/military integration

NATO approves sense and avoid standard for UAS operations

If you wish to add email recipients to this list or unsubscribe please send message to newsletter@unmannedairspace.info
For all editorial matters please contact the editor, Philip Butterworth-Hayes on philip@unmannedairspace.info.
For advertising and sponsorship please contact Kay Rolland at Kay.rolland@gmail.com