

UNMANNED AIRSPACE

Weekly news bulletin – 23 April 2018

UAS traffic management system news

Saudi Arabia announces UAS flight restrictions following Riyadh palace drone incursion

DeTect installs drone surveillance radar for BVLOS operations in Spain

French government outlines proposals for drone e-identification and lights

uAvionix “successfully tests remote NASA TCL3 UTM identification system”

Xcel Energy “receives FAA approval for BVLOS drone utility flights this summer”

Drone airspace simulations reveal complexities of integration in unsegregated operations

China introduces new rules for commercial drone operators from June

UK Airprox Board concludes A319 was at “serious risk” of drone collision

Indian government “creates task force to fast-track UAS technology and operations”

Counter-UAS systems and policies

OpenWorks net-capturing C-UAS system part of ILA Berlin GUARDION security system

Hensoldt launches compact version of its Xpeller C-UAS system

Commentary

Breaking down the potential of LAANC

If you wish to add email recipients to this list or unsubscribe please send message to newsletter@unmannedairspace.info

For all editorial matters please contact the editor, Philip Butterworth-Hayes on philip@unmannedairspace.info.

For advertising and sponsorship please contact Kay Rolland at Kay.rolland@gmail.com